OSCAR FIGMAN AT THE CRYSTAL TONIGHT ONLY

New York Cast to Appear in Roaring Farce, "A Pair of Sixes" You'll Be Sure to Laugh if You Go.

"A Pair of Sixes" Edward Pepler's leading success which last New York in its history of laughter for a half a century at the Lyric Theater, is now being offered at the Crystal Theater tonight, with Oscar Figman and the New York cast.

The old deal with two partners who disagree as to the relative importance in the conduct of a profession, which is the subject of the play, is a story which has been told in many guises, but never so effectively as in this play.

By the consolidation of the state it is required that the subject of every bill shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no subject shall be treated in two or more bills.

There is no law in New Mexico which prohibits a person from hunting rabbits in order to kill them for the purpose of selling their skins.

You say it is a law that at the time the law was passed in 1892, the law was intended to prohibit the sale of rabbit skins.

The law is a law which prohibits the sale of rabbit skins, and it is a law which prohibits the sale of rabbit skins.
